

IDENTIFIES THE SLAYER OF RECTOR

Authorities Now Near Solution of Double Murder

Woman Who Witnessed the Deed Claims to Have Seen Mysterious Man and Woman Since That Night.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
NEW BRUNSWICK, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Jane Gibson, 42, who claims to have seen the murderer of the slain rector, Edward Wheeler, and his wife, Mrs. E. R. Mills, told today a newspaperman that she had seen the man who she said shot the rector as well as identifying the woman who she asserts was the slayer.

Mrs. Gibson, who was on the Phillips farm on the night of the murder looking for corn cobs and who claims to have heard the slayer's name called by his companion, said that she did not know the identity of the slayer at the time but that she recently saw him in the prosecutor's office in New Brunswick.

"The Gibson woman who it is learned has told the authorities the name of the murderer's companion said today that she once met her at a ramble and instantly recognized her at the scene of the murder. She added that she had seen her since the double killing with the State prosecutor and was sure of recognition."

Amplifying her previous story Mrs. Gibson said she rode on a mule back from her home into De Prusses Lane following a wagon without lights which she thought was driven by corn thieves.

She said she saw the wagon turn into Eaton Avenue toward New Brunswick. The lane intersects Eastern Avenue just beyond "Lover's Lane" on which the two bodies were found. Just at the intersection Mrs. Gibson said she saw an old style automobile standing in the lane. In the machine she declared, was a man and a woman, and she stopped her mule 40 feet from them. Just then, her story she said, another machine turned into the lane and its headlights fell on two persons by the automobile. The second car backed out and steered away on Eastern Avenue, Mrs. Gibson says, but while its lights were thrown on the machine she recognized the man and woman who stepped out of the light.

Mrs. Gibson said the woman wore a grey coat extending to her knees. She says the man had on a heavy dark mustache, bushy eyebrows and heavy build. "When I went to the prosecutor's office, I saw this man and recognized him as the one who had withdrawn the man and woman crossed the lane and went into the field in a general direction of the apple tree. Mrs. Gibson says that instinctively she followed the man and woman who rushed the field.

"When I turned into the dirt road," she said, "I lost one of my morocassins. I dismounted to get it. When I had put it on and got back on the mule, the couple had gone."

Minutes later I heard loud voices from the direction of the tree and I saw a man and a woman each with a flashlight. They threw beams on another man and woman.

Then out of the darkness I heard more loud talking as if all were quarrelling then I heard a shot. I heard a woman's voice scream in horror."

Mrs. Gibson said the woman who screamed uttered a name and shouted "Please, please."

"And then," she said, "I put my heels into my jennie mule and went on home."

Wilbur Mott, the new prosecutor came to New Brunswick today and summoned every principal in the case to the courthouse to hear their stories.

Mrs. Hall, widow of the rector, James Mills, husband of the woman killed, Charlotte Mills, their daughter, Henry and William Stevens brothers of Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Gibson, all will be questioned.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Andrew Bonar Law, as leader of Unionists, in a manifesto issued today, declared one of the tasks of that party, if it returned to power, will be to make good the Anglo-Irish treaty both in letter and spirit, and to co-operate with Ireland. The manifesto is the latest of the government's earnest aim to give to whole-hearted and principal support to the League of Nations to fulfil Britain's obligations abroad, but not to extend her commitments, but preferably curtail them and to maintain friendship and understanding with the United States.

Mr. Law in the manifesto said that it was the Unionist purpose if the new government do approve to call an economic conference to discover how the vast trade which the resources of the empire make possible may be developed by mutual co-operation.

Shelton Calls On People To Stand By Law Leagues

The Law Enforcement meeting of the Swansboro League was held at Swansboro Methodist Church last night, the devotional exercises being conducted by J. L. Gravelly of this city.

The main thought presented for discussion said W. T. Shelton, who attended the meeting was that righteousness, emphasized by the exercise of Christian citizenship in the faithful discharge of Christian duty was the safeguard for every locality against the invasion of lawlessness. The safety of our country depends upon the righteous ten, rather than the military strength," the speaker opined.

Mr. Shelton followed Mr. Gravelly, urging the people to stand by the law, saying that these leagues were organized to safeguard the people against law violators in the city and country.

There will be three meetings of the leagues next Sunday, one at Kingsford at 11 a. m., addressed by Rev. David H. H. H. of Richmond, and at 2 p. m. at Chatham, in the courtroom, and at Dry Fork, at 7:30 p. m. Dr. Heppner will address the Dry Fork meeting and he and Hon. WASHINGTON PROBABLY OPPOSED TO PLAN

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Pleading receipts in Washington of the official invitation for American participation in the Lausanne conference, official American comment was withheld. There is reason to believe that the trend of opinion does not favor United States intervention in the conference beyond the appointment of an observer qualified to give America's viewpoint on all questions in which the United States has an interest. Should the allied invitation reach Washington in time without doubt it will come up for consideration by tomorrow's cabinet.

Gretna Man Sees Slemp; Threatens Big "Thunderbolt"

Fifth District Republicans Badly Split Up Over Patronage Matters—Powell's Interview in Washington.

BY GEORGE H. MANNING
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.—There are signs of a wide open breach between the Republicans of the Fifth district of Virginia over patronage. B. R. Powell, of Gretna, formerly referee for the district, is threatening to hurl a thunderbolt "that will attract nation-wide attention if Representative G. Bascom Slemp does not permit him to name the postmaster for his home town and to have some say about distribution of the other jobs in the district."

Right after the Republican administration came into power about two years ago Mr. Powell was recognized by Representative Slemp as the referee for the Fifth district. But about a year ago the distribution of the jobs drifted to Dexter Goad, of Hillsville, member of the Republican state executive committee.

After writing and telegraphing several times within the past three weeks to Representative Slemp for a conference over patronage matters, and failing to obtain a satisfactory response Mr. Powell came to Washington yesterday and met the congressman. The meeting was not at all satisfactory to Mr. Powell who departed without delay and in deep disgust for his home.

After Mr. Powell's departure two of his friends brought to the office of the Danville Bee's correspondent the following mysterious statement which, they said, Mr. Powell had dictated:

"Colonel B. R. Powell, of Pittsylvania county, Va., the oracle on Republican activities in the Fifth Congressional District of Va., was at the Raleigh (Hotel) today having received from Representative Slemp a copy of the Fifth district patronage list. Mr. Powell was in his usual fine spirits and stated that in his district nothing had been done, that in so many instances the lower end of the State Organization had been so active that the genuine Simon-pure Republicans do not feel that they could harmonize.

"Consequently Mr. Powell stated that many Republicans of long standing feel indignant, and many incensed against those who merit no claim upon the Republican party. Mr. Powell stated that the Republican party's hopes in the State of Virginia lay with us, the law, practice and tradition are Virginians."

"Colonel Powell questioned closely as to Virginia politics, stated that he could not talk until after certain conditions developed. He stated that he had both the information and facts, but will reserve it until he sees whether certain politicians who hold office positions, are in it for the emoluments or for faith in the party. Developments, Mr. Powell stated, that would attract nation-wide attention are in his possession, and a thunderbolt may be hurled at the most unsuspecting time."

"Colonel Powell positively turned down all offers of federal appointment."

The friends of Colonel Powell frankly admitted that he is peeved at the Republican organization, Representative Slemp, State Chairman Crupper, et al, because his recommendations concerning appointments in the fifth district have been disregarded, but asserted they were unauthorized by Mr. Powell to go into details or to state what he intended to do if the organization does not "satisfy" him.

When Representative Slemp was questioned about the matter he said Mr. Powell had not been recognized as the referee in the Fifth district for over a year; but that Dexter Goad of Hillsville is now dictating patronage. Mr. Powell, he said, had wired him several times recently asking for a conference over patronage.

Yesterday Mr. Powell called on Mr. Slemp at the latter's office at the capitol. It is understood, appeared rather excited and insisted on discussing appointments. Mr. Powell is particularly interested in recommending the postmaster for his home town, Gretna.

Mr. Slemp explained to Mr. Powell it is learned, that he was very busy with the campaign and could not take up patronage matters until after election. This did not sit well with Mr. Powell and a little later the statement quoted above was issued.

Salesman Held Up In Liquor Search

Dental Clinics In City Schools Now In Progress

The development of oral hygiene in the city public schools which has been fostered by the city health department has reached its highest phase in the two years that this important work has been attempted. The regular school dental clinics, the fourth grade rooms of three schools and Superintendent W. C. Griggs is actively cooperating with City Health Officer R. W. Garnett in the work.

The development of oral hygiene is now being restricted to the elementary schools and every child will have his or her mouth properly charted following examination by local dentists who are also cooperating through the medium of the Danville Dental Association. Upon the examination of each child's teeth a card is filled out, this showing the state of the teeth and suggesting the proper corrective treatment. This card is mailed to the parents of the child who are urged, in the event of defective teeth, to have them corrected. The corrective work done and this is returned whereupon the city health officer's organization follows up the work and sees that it is done on a low fee basis.

Dr. W. H. Cline, of Richmond, sent here by the State Board of Health is now here caring for children who for good reasons are unable to have the work prescribed done. Dr. Cline carries with him portable equipment and for a month's period he is to work in the city health department.

Incidentally an interesting experiment is being undertaken, that of seeing just what the effect of oral hygiene means to the general public. The dental clinic is being set up in the city health department and the ability to acquire himself or herself of school work.

Three class rooms have been set aside in the fourth grade and it is planned by Mr. Garnett and Mr. Griggs to have the children in these classes receive a general training in dental hygiene. It is calculated to show how dental work influences the general development of the child which is expected to be reflected in the weight chart which is maintained in these rooms.

Tomorrow there will be a mass meeting of colored parents at Westminster school at which it is hoped to explain the work being carried out which is also to be launched in the colored schools of the city.

Richmond Man Relates Experience Encountered on Thursday Night Near Fieldale.

C. R. Tiller, a traveling salesman from Richmond, representing a large drug concern is in Danville today and related a thrilling experience which he underwent on his way from Bassett to Martinsville last Thursday night. Mr. Tiller, like many traveling men of today who have to cover large rural district using an automobile, the rear of which is equipped so as to carry the samples of the wares in which he deals.

Mr. Tiller had reached a point not far from Fieldale when the headlights of a machine, the car being about eleven o'clock—revealed two men who stepped out into the road. One of them held an electric torch lamp which he waved at the approaching car, the signal being that the driver halt his car. The man with the torch stepped into the car, his lights showing both men to be clad in overalls. Bringing his car to a stop abreast of the two men Mr. Tiller states, one of them mounted the running board with a revolver which he held pointed at the body of the car driver, less than a foot away. Mr. Tiller immediately held up his hands, his first impression being that he was being victimized by hold-ups who had the distinct advantage of him. He had made up his mind to drive home such money as he had without resistance.

It was not a hold-up however, merely a summary search and seizure proceeding numerous instances of which have been related of recent months.

Mr. Tiller quoted the man with the revolver as saying:

"What have you got on, what's in that box behind your car?"

Tiller says that he told the man that the box contained nothing but samples. The traveling man admits that he was unprepared by the method of approaching him and that the two men seeing the nervousness broke into a hearty laugh and told him that they were "just looking for some liquor."

The men were apparently impressed with Tiller's behavior, for he says, they told him all right you can go on, the man with the revolver leaving the running board and saying, "I don't guess you've got any liquor."

Mr. Tiller stated this morning that the men were neither armed nor otherwise dangerous. He presented a badge showing their authority. There was, he declares, nothing by which they could be identified and from their appearance roughly clad in overalls it was hard to believe they were officers of the law. Only one of the men, so far as he could see, was armed.

Tiller on being released by the two men continued his journey to Martinsville where he related his experience to a number of people.

CHEAPER LABOR INCREASES COTTON SPINNING

TOKIO, Oct. 25.—Cotton spinning by Japanese in China has been on the increase in recent years. This is due to the cheaper, more plentiful supply of labor obtainable in China than in Japan and the advantages of getting a supply of raw cotton on the spot. In addition to these advantages, the proposed raising of import duty on cotton yarn and cotton fabrics as a result of the Washington conference will make the import of these goods in China in competition with the native industry more difficult in the future.

At present the Japanese spinning enterprises are limited to Shanghai, Tientsin and Tsingtau, but proposals are afoot for the starting of a similar enterprise in Manchuria and other parts of China. Thirty-one Japanese spinning factories in China possess 32,909 spindles and 2,000 weaving looms, while 500,000 spindles and 1,000 looms are in course of construction. Of these, thirteen factories with 352,000 spindles and 2,000 looms are in Shanghai, while eleven more with 22,909 spindles and 1,000 looms are under construction at Shanghai.

Early mass disturbed by Mr. Meade's death, Oct. 25.—Early mass at the St. Mary's Catholic church was almost broken up this morning when an unidentified tourist from New York state walked behind the altar and ordered the priest to stop talking and to allow him to continue the service. Another priest called the police. Two officers failed to quiet the man even after black jacks were used. Two other policemen were called before the man was overpowered and placed in jail. An examination as to his sanity will be made Thursday.

EUGENICS FOR DOGS IS NOW URGED BY TERHUNE

ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE AND SOME OF HIS COLLIES

By JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Oct. 25.—"Eugenics for dogs!" The proposal comes from Albert Payson Terhune, novelist and writer of famous dog stories.

Terhune, novelist cut down the dog population. At his estate here, surrounded by a remarkable collection of collies, he told of his hopes for improvement of the canine race.

"There are far too many dogs in the world," he said, "and humans would employ eugenics with dogs (upon whom it could easily be enforced) instead of preaching eugenics to humans (upon whom it can never be enforced) there would be only enough dogs for man's workers and chums.

Against Animal Acts.

"Under such a system there would be no stray dogs, no dog pounds, no idiotic mad-dog scares. And above all there would be no dogs forced into vaudeville acts."

It is against this use of dogs in

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING WORK

In cooperation with the school board, the Health Department has inaugurated a plan for meeting the evident need of reducing lost motion and of increasing efficiency in the field of public health nursing. In order that this plan may be made clear to the doctors, the schools and the citizens generally, a somewhat detailed description is undertaken in this article.

1. Public health work has for its ideal the three fold objective: (a) Prevention of sickness, (b) Removal of remediable handicaps, (c) Promotion of a more abundant physical and mental life.

2. It should be emphasized that the public health nurse is one of the most valuable agents and public health nursing one of the most important activities of an up-to-date Health Department.

The public health nurse who has in addition to her hospital training, the education, experience and social sense to give her the preventive attitude toward the problem of disease, is able to "get across" the gospel of prevention and to succeed to a degree at any rate in translating that message into "habits of health" better than any one else.

The Health Department has secured the services of Miss Anna McCauley, Miss Georgia Wilson and Miss Will B. Oley as district public health nurses.

The nurse in each district will have three schools, two white and one colored, and will give from 8:45 to 12 o'clock each school day to school work. The afternoon will be given to clinics and home visiting. Each nurse will come to the Health Office daily at 12 o'clock to turn in her daily report, to receive any assignments and for occasional conferences on the work.

A series of forms for work in the clinics, for clinics and home visits have been carefully studied out and adopted.

Each nurse will so far as possible deal with all the phases of public health work in her district, giving attention, where time permits, to:

Greek Relief In City Growing

The movement for the relief of the Greek Christians in Asia Minor and particularly in Thrace is assuming steadily enlarging proportions in all the cities and towns of this country. To their credit it should be said that Americans of Greek birth or parentage are giving birth or parentage to their distressed and suffering fellow countrymen and co-religionists.

In Danville, several of the best known churches have directed attention to the appeal for clothing and necessities of all kinds to be sent overseas with the least practicable delay, and many responses have been received from the people of this city and even people in surrounding towns and in the country are sending in donations of clothing and dress supplies of all kinds. As yet, however, have manifested a general and active interest, although all of them endorse and commend the appeal.

This is the day on which the collection of clothing donations is to be made, and it is expected that the response will be liberal. With fully one million Greek Christians destitute and many suffering from hunger as well as from the hardships incident to hurried exodus from their homes and even people in surrounding towns and in the country are sending in donations of clothing and dress supplies of all kinds. As yet, however, have manifested a general and active interest, although all of them endorse and commend the appeal.

Among the churches which have taken organized action and are preparing to make a generous response to the Greek appeal, is the Keen Street Baptist Church, which will hold a meeting at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the church, to which all who have clothing or wearables to give will kindly send or bring them. There is no program of addresses or exercises, but merely an assembling for the purpose of collecting the donations.

It is reliably understood also that a special appeal is being made to Greek residents of Danville of whom there are many, practically all of whom are good citizens. Some have already contributed money with surprising generosity, considering their means, and all are expected to give as much as they feel they can spare.

What education and common sense are doing for thousands

THOUSANDS of people are learning that they cannot drink coffee or tea at supper time and get a good night's sleep.

Experience has taught these men and women to recognize that the caffeine in both coffee and tea is often responsible for a wakeful, restless night, and a nervous "next day."

If you have reason to believe that coffee or tea is causing your headaches, insomnia or nervousness, why not drink rich, refreshing Postum instead.

Postum is the delicious golden-brown cereal beverage that many former coffee-drinkers prefer for its satisfying flavor alone.

Ask your grocer today for Postum and begin serving this delicious beverage at meal times—and see how well you like it.

Postum comes in two forms—Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling fully twenty minutes.

Dry Officer Is A Moonshiner

Raiding Party Fails to Capture "Big" Floyd Hopkins in Holston Mountains.

BRISTOL, Oct. 26.—"Big" Floyd Hopkins, super-man of the mountains, former United States prohibition officer and veteran of many a thrilling encounter with moonshiners, yesterday played a new role in a raid staged far back in the Holston mountains near Fishdam, according to the story brought back today by a party of county and federal raiders.

This time, "Big" Hopkins, as he is known in the hills, was the moonshiner, sought by the officers. His coat, many sizes too large for the average sized man, his still, his favorite forty-five, and his cap were brought back by the raiders, but Hopkins got away. Fifteen gallons of liquor were found at the still.

Hopkins was working at his still under which blazed a brisk fire when the officers approached. They called on him to throw up his hands and he obeyed, but began to bark away. Quick as a flash he whirled, and dashed into the nearby underbrush. Six shots were fired after him but one is thought to have hit, or effect.

The officers searched for hours in the hope of being to bring him to justice, but he could not be found.

Hopkins weighs 285 pounds, is 28 years old, and a superb specimen of manhood. In the army he won several medals as a boxer and runner. He is an expert marksman. He served as a deputy sheriff in Sullivan county for about a year and then was appointed Government Raiding Agent. It had been reported heretofore for several months that he has been making whiskey in the mountains. A party of officers today set out to arrest him.

Five Take Civil Service Exams.

By GEORGE H. MANNING (Washington Correspondent of Danville Bee.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.—Five candidates took the civil service examination last week for postmaster at Bassettville; three for Lawrenceville and only one for Reedville, Virginia, where vacancies exist.

The applicants were:

Bassettville—George G. Goode, Thomas J. Craig, Mrs. O. E. Davis, Bessie J. Philpott, and Mrs. Lattie L. Coleman.

Lawrenceville—George E. Crosthwaite, Virgil G. Holt and Lewis B. Colwell.

Reedville—George H. McFarland.

It will require about two months for the civil service commission to examine and rate the papers and certify the names of the eligibles to the postoffice department. Representative Sloop and State Chairman Crupper will then be asked to choose the postmasters from among the eligibles.

6500 Morning Surge!

The docket in the police court this morning was a brief one and was disposed of in quick order.

The case of Herman Hubbard, charged with an assault on Clarence Simms, was postponed until tomorrow.

Hubbard stated that he wanted an opportunity to present some witnesses.

S. G. Smith, charged with operating a automobile while drunk, was not present. It was said that he was ill at his home.

Sam Waddell, a minor charged with "molestering" will be tried in the juvenile court.

Georgia Lee, colored, fined $7.50 for failing to pay taxes on her dog.

Several other such cases were called but the alleged violators were present.

W. C. Wooley was acquitted of a charge of violating the Mapp act. He is now being held for the North Carolina authorities, who charge him with the theft of an automobile, which is being held here.

OLD RED SCHOOL HOUSE MUST GO, SAYS EDUCATOR AFTER TOUR

By NEA Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—"The little red school house must go. It is ramshackle, unsanitary, poorly placed, an outward symbol of injustice that is being done to the children of the rural schools."

Mabel Carney, professor of rural education at Teachers College, Columbia, talking, she had just returned from a tour through the country, where she found these things:

In a New England country-side, where the people were poor, a mite of a school house, 107 years old, set along the side of the road.

In a village in Minnesota, where the people were prosperous, a million-dollar school house with a $10,000 painting across the front wall of the auditorium.

In Texas, a 14-year-old boy who had never heard of a high school.

In another southern state a 19-year-old girl who couldn't go to school because she was needed in the fields—where she was picking her hundred pounds of cotton daily.

In an Appalachian state, a 24-year-old county superintendent and a ninth grade product presiding over the destinies of 5000 children because he had been disappointed in the race for sheriff.

In all states an average of $10 being spent for the city child's education as against $24 for the rural child.

"Farmers," says Miss Carney, "love their children as much as anybody but the average farmer has exactly as much as he can get for his farm for a year."

"When a farmer is poverty-stricken and in debt, when he can only barely manage to feed and clothe his family, what chance have his children?"

"A national survey and classification of land to tell what sections are fit for farming is among the measures advocated by MISS CARNEY for the relief of the farmer."

"In Montana," she says, "a family of Bohemians, destitute, because they had been killed of money and sold utterly worthless land by a wily real estate agent."

Other measures which she advocates are crop insurance, better prices for farmers and the distribution of national wealth so that all may be given the economic need. With it will go the passing of the little red school house.

Three Danville Men Seek Postmastership

Meade R. Flynn, Frank O. Lumpkin and Samuel W. Collier Take Civil Service Examination.

By GEORGE H. MANNING (Washington Correspondent of Danville Bee.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.—Three men took the civil service examination, which closed yesterday, for the Danville postmastership. They were Meade R. Flynn, Frank O. Lumpkin and Samuel W. Collier.

Lumpkin has been in the office about a year serving as acting postmaster. He took the first examination held on September 20, 1921, but failed to secure a rating that would make him eligible for the regular appointment. Representative Sloop has failed since in several efforts to get Lumpkin qualified.

The commission expects to complete rating the papers of the candidates in about two months and report to the postoffice department the names of the eligibles. The Republican organization is hoping that the time Lumpkin will get an eligible rating so that he can be given the regular four-year appointment.

The term of the last regular postmaster at Danville expired July 1, 1918. Shortly after that the Democrats nominated James V. Reynolds for postmaster, but the Senate Republicans refused to permit his confirmation. This was part of the fixed party program not to confirm any more of President Andrew Jackson's nominees but to leave the places open for Republicans as soon as the Repub-

Rector 50 Years Repudiates Faith

The Rev. Dr. McConnell Says He Cannot Accept Teachings of Christianity.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—In the 50th year of his ministerial career with the Protestant Church, the Rev. Dr. McConnell, formerly rector of Holy Trinity Church, Broadway, later of All Souls, Manhattan, has repudiated the accepted teachings of Christianity as founded, including all biblical doctrines pertaining to the fall of man, the miracles, the divinity of Christ and the teachings of a chosen people originating with Abraham.

His views are set forth in a small volume entitled, "Confessions of an Aged Priest," just published by the McMillan Company. The world's press has received one of the first copies of the book, a foreword by Dr. McConnell, he remained silent so long that he might be sure before speaking.

In 1902 Dr. McConnell came within four votes of being elected Bishop of the Diocese of Long Island. He retired from the active ministry in 1915, but remained rector emeritus of All Souls. He has since devoted himself to philosophical study and literature.

With his open avowal of convictions, he is in case with the church and leaves it to do with me as it sees fit. He hopes, however, the church will find such as he have a place in its ministry. "I am sure many another has passed through the same phases of faith to its collapse."

Specifically, Dr. McConnell attacks the teaching that Jesus was conceived of the Holy Ghost and born of a virgin mother; that, was buried and rose from the tomb to ascend to heaven. As for the miracles, he says "every one now realizes that it puts to confusion the idea of natural law."

If the sun had stood still, as Joshua commanded, it would have wrecked the universe, he says.

Afraid to Die Alone Shoots Brother Also

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—(U. I. for several months, Joseph J. Sanders, a youth living near Dravosburg, a suburb, frequently told relatives that he was afraid to die "and go to heaven alone."

Today he shot his fifteen-year-old brother William and then killed himself.

William is not expected to recover.

Counter Offensive On Liquor Rule

British Board of Trade Demands That American Ships Have Five Gallons of Brandy Aboard.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The liquor ship situation became more complicated today as Treasury Department officials speeded up their plans for the issuance of formal regulations to put Attorney General Daugherty's ruling into effect. The principal development was the launching of a counter-offensive by the British Board of Trade, which has supreme authority over British shipping and ports.

The British law, which requires all vessels leaving a British port to have on board five gallons of brandy for each 100 steerage passengers in order to secure clearance papers, was put into effect against the American counter-offensive. British officials expressed no surprise at the Board of Trade's action, taking the stand that Great Britain has as much right to enforce its shipping laws as the United States to enforce its own.

It also became known today that foreign shipping interests will try to carry the liquor controversy to the United States Supreme Court tomorrow.

It was reported that Frank Lord, attorney for the Cunard and Anchor lines, will seek to get a restraining order from some justice of the Supreme Court which will permit liquor-laden ships of foreign registry to enter American ports pending a final decision by the highest tribunal.

Cabinet Takes Up Problem.

At the cabinet meeting there was extended discussion of the complications that have arisen with foreign nations, because of the Daugherty's ruling and the prohibition law.

Administration is said to be seeking some way to permit "ship stores"—meaning liquor for consumption of the crews—to come into the three-mile limit. Innumerable difficulties are seen, unless this can be arranged some way.

James J. Brink, solicitor for the prohibitionists, presented enforcement regulations for approval of Secretary Mellon and Commissioner Blair, but they were withheld for revision. It was said at the White House early today that Secretary Mellon would issue a statement on the liquor-ship issue, after the regulations. Later Secretary Mellon said this statement would not be made before tomorrow.

Chairman Lusk, of the Shipping Board, later today had received the letter from Captain Adonis, in regard to the enforcement of the Board of Trade order at Plymouth and refused to discuss the matter at length. He declined to say whether he will issue any additional instructions in view of the experience of the President Adams.

Incidentally, a limited quantity of liquor is still carried on U. S. ships for medicinal purposes, but presumably the five gallons of brandy required by the British Board of Trade officials American drys hardly will be extreme as to demand the withdrawal of all American ships from the trans-Atlantic trade rather than comply with the British law.

Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs

Makes a family supply of really dependable cough medicine. Easily prepared, and gives about $2.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any drug store will supply you with 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with sue, promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. Ask for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

EBERT'S TERM EXTENDED

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—The Reichstag, by a vote of 314 to 76, today decided to prolong the term of Friedrich Ebert in the German presidency until June 30, 1925.

After the result of the vote was announced Paul Loebe, president of the Reichstag, accompanied by Chancellor Wirth and Minister of the Interior Koester, visited President Ebert and notified him of the action taken by the Reichstag. The President formally accepted the extension of his term of office.

CRAFT ARRIVE FOR NAVY DAY

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 25.—Following closely the trail marked in the fresh waters of the historic James River by their tender, the U. S. S. Fulton, a flotilla of six submarines docked at the municipal wharf late today after a successful and uneventful run from the naval base at Hampton Roads. They were followed closely by the U. S. S. Maury, a destroyer from the Newport News station. The craft

CANADA TAKES SECOND EVENT IN BOAT RACES

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 25.—(By The Associated Press).—This was Canada's day and a Blue Nose victory under conditions of weather more nearly approaching the fishermen's lot in the international series for the fishing schooner championship of the North Atlantic. The Henry Ford of Gloucester, at the end of a 40 mile test was 1-12 minutes astern of the Canadian champion.

The result brought the Blue Nose, defending holder of the Halifax Herald Cup to even terms with the American challenger. Each has a win toward the two necessary for possession, their first race, while mooted still standing as no contest. The deciding race is scheduled for tomorrow.

From the start, in which collision between the racing schooners was avoided by the willingness of Captain Clayton Morrissey of the Ford to waive the rules of the road at sea which gave him the right of way against the Blue Nose's blooming encroachment, to the last leg in which a man at the masthead of the big Lunenburg, was injured, it was a race of thrills.

Ernest Hiltz, one of the crack members of the Blue Nose crew, will race no more in this series. Snarled in a stay sail half-way high in air, he hung suspended by the left leg for several minutes after a tack on the near home, until he had to be cut down. The stay sail then went winging in the air, unless for the rest of the race. Hiltz was taken to a hospital.

The men of the Ford had a lot of hustling to do when, after they got under way for the start, they discovered that the boat ropes of the foremast were partly severed in three places. When spread the weakness each developed and sprang the mast, but with spunk and nails, looking sail needles and thread, the fishermen strengthened the edge and made a good job of it. Gloucester was incensed by a rumored suggestion that the sail had been cut, but Captain Morrissey himself implied that he placed no stock in it.

The race was sailed in wind that ran up the scale from light airs at the start to a booming 20 knot speed, wind that was a smoky southwester in the 29 mile windward leg. The forward stretch gave the Blue Nose the lead of 1-12 minutes that was hers at the finish.

V. M. I. PREPARES FOR N. C. STATE

LEXINGTON, Va., Oct. 25.—The V. M. I. Flying Squadron began preparations for their N. C. State game, to be played in Norfolk on Oct. 28, immediately after their return from Charlottesville where they defeated University of Virginia, 14 to 0. Extension practice was begun from the start, and every stage of the game is rehearsed to the fullest extent in order to improve the Cadet machine.

Saturday's game with Virginia was the first event of the season that was played with real opposition. Football was used during the game, and the Cadets were forced to fight for every inch gained. This game however showed the coaches for the first time the real dangers of the Eleven. At practice Monday afternoon the coach spent most of the time ironing out the weaknesses. There will be no let up the entire week until the team enters for the Carolina State game.

With the exception of a few minor blemishes, the team came through the old Dominion game in good shape. Halfback MacGregor, who has been out of the game since the Roanoke College contest, is rounding into condition and will probably lead in the line-up against State.

The coaches put the Cadet Eleven through a stiff general drill Tuesday afternoon, which was followed by thirty minutes of hard scrimmage. MacGregor ran through the signals for the first time in several weeks. Both the team and coaches expect a hard battle from State, as the latter scored for the season a very impressive one. There is no danger of the Cadets becoming overconfident over the game with Carolina, as they realize their own defeat and are working hard to the end of overcoming them.

PELOTA POPULAR MEXICAN GAME

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 25.—The Spanish game of pelota, a combination of handball and tennis, is easily the most popular sport in Mexico. This is attested by the fact that the promoters of the game in Mexico will declare more than 1,000,000 pesos in dividends from their profits of the last 12 months.

Pelota is an interesting unless attended by betting and thousands of pesos change hands every night at the Fronton here where the games are played four nights a week.

Americans and Englishmen are great followers of the sport which, to the impartial observer, requires more skill than tennis or baseball, more endurance than football, and more dexterity than handball.

MAYFIELD JURY STILL HUNG UP

CORSICANA, Tex., Oct. 25.—The jury in the injunction suit which seeks to keep the name of Earle B. Mayfield off the ballot as Democratic candidate for United States Senator, reported to Judge Scarbrough in Sulphur Court this afternoon that it had not reached a verdict and had answered none of the questions propounded to it in the charge.

The jury was brought in at the request of W. B. McLean, Jr., a lawyer for the defense, who informed Judge Scarbrough he had to leave the city and would like to know how the jury stood on the case before he left. Judge Scarbrough sent the jury back for further deliberation. He informed newspaper men he would hold the jury until tomorrow night at least, if no verdict was returned before then.

SUE FOR $10,000 BECAUSE THEY WERE REFUSED ADMISSION TO GAME

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Charging they were refused admission to the Chicago-Purdue football game last Saturday when they presented tickets purchased from Scalpers J. McElroy, C. L. Frudon and B. D. Duggan, filed suit for $10,000 each in superior court today against the University of Chicago. The suit, it was said, was based on a recent decision of a California court.

Recently the University started a campaign against scalpers, refusing to accept tickets sold by brokers.

LEGION SETTLES ITS DIFFERENCES

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 25.—Talk of a break between the American Legion and the National Legion, which has completely been smothered by the Legion has proved its complete unity of purpose and action, Emanuel Bolles, national president, said today on his return here today from the convention. Mr. Bolles said the convention was the greatest ever held in point of spirit shown, the definition of policies, and the promise of immediate action on the part of the Legion.

The entire absence of sectional feeling was one of the most gratifying features of the conference he said. He cited this as a refutation of the rumors that various sectional interests were during inside the organization. An instance of sectional harmony, he said, was the election of Arvin M. Dwyer, a southern man, by virtue of a great northern vote.

PENN. STATE ACCEPTS WESTERN CHALLENGE

CORNWALLIS, Pa., Oct. 25.—Pennsylvania State University will accept the invitation of the Pacific Coast Inter-Collegiate Conference to represent the East in the inter-sectional football game at Pasadena, Calif., January 1, against a team to be selected by the Pacific Coast Conference, according to a measure received today by Dr. L. C. Dubach, president of the coast conference.

STAMP COLLECTORS WARNED AGAINST COUNTERFEITS

DANZIG, Oct. 25.—Stamp collectors have been warned to be on the lookout for counterfeit German stamps alleged to have been made in London during the war for use by English spies in Germany.

The rigidity of the German censorship was such during hostilities that enemy spies found great trouble in getting reports out of the country. Various methods of transmitting information, through invisible ink, et cetera, are said to have been detected with ease, and the spies finally were obliged to resort to using the backs of stamps. The official German postage material, it is said, was of such texture that it could not be adopted for the use of chemical inks, and counterfeit stamps of a suitable paper were manufactured in London.

A Danzig philatelic expert says the forgery was revealed by "a high diploma" in London, who turned over to a philatelist an unusual quantity of the stamps, at the same time calling attention to the deception. The forgery is understood to involve only stamps of ten and 15 pfennigs denomination.

The counterfeiters may be distinguished by certain differences such as the measure of the teeth-like projections around the edge. Also, the original had a glossy surface on its back, while the counterfeit's mucilage is duller, and the paper thinner than that of the official stamp. The forged stamp furthermore lacks small curved lines which in the original form part of the stems in the letters "T" and "H" of the word "Deutsches."

SALLY LEAGUE TO ABOLISH THE CLASS MAN RULE

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 25.—Abolition of the so-called "class man rule," forbidding any club to have more than six players who have had experience on "class" baseball clubs, or higher, was decided upon today at the annual meeting of directors of the South Atlantic Association of baseball clubs. The salary limit was fixed at $3,200, the maximum allowed by the national association and the player limit was set at 14, including the manager, who under an amendment to the rules adopted today, must be a playing manager.

The next season will open April 16 and will run through September 16, it was decided.

STATZ FAILS TO ATTAIN 300 MARK

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Failure of Arnold Statz, star outfielder of the Chicago Nationals to keep up his hitting in the last four games of the 1922 season saved his club $10,000, it was revealed today. The Chicago club had agreed to pay the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast League this amount in addition to the cash and player already given for Statz if the star finished the season with a batting average of .300 or better. Statz knew nothing of this agreement. Statz finished the season with a batting average of .297 according to unofficial figures compiled here. Four days before the season closed the little outfielder star was traveling along with a mark of .301. In his last four games he made only three hits in sixteen times at bat. Big Jeff Pfeiffer of the St. Louis Cardinals, was the hoodoo that stood between Statz and the coveted mark, which the Los Angeles club owners had hoped he would attain at the season's close. Pfeiffer went to the hill in the first game of the farewell series between the St. Louis and Chicago clubs here on September 29, and held Statz hitless in four times at bat.

Statz got back into his hitting stride in the final game on Sunday, with Pfeiffer staging a comeback, and cracked out two hits in four times at bat, but this was not enough to reach the coveted goal, which would have enriched the Los Angeles club $10,000.

GREAT INTEREST IN COMING GAME

LEXINGTON, Va., Oct. 25.—Both Washington and Lee and Virginia football fans have been looking forward to the coming football game between their two institutions ever since the resumption of athletic relations between the two Universities last year and there is no doubt but that the game that will be played in Charlottesville Saturday week will be the most bitterly contested gridiron battle by either institution this year, so great is its importance to both. Though the defeat of Virginia by V. M. I. last Saturday showed them up badly the statistics show that the losing team gained more ground than the winner, while three varsity men were kept out because of injuries. Tiesman, Fenwick and Hubbard. It is certain that the game November 4 will not be a walkaway for either and in spite of the high class football displayed against West Virginia Saturday, the Generals are far from overconfident of the outcome of the game.

NEAR EAST RELIEF VESSELS WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Three shipping board vessels have been placed at the disposal of the American Red Cross to carry relief supplies to Greece, the Coeur de Alene sailing from New York about November 5, the Hog Island out of the same port about December 10, and another vessel to be selected at a later date.

RUSSIAN GROUPS BACK FAVORITES

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Something akin to consternation has been caused in Russian monarchist circles by Grand Duke Cyril's recent manifesto claiming succession to Czar Nicholas II.
 and a conference will take place at Tashkand to find a way out of the difficulty caused by rival groups of monarchists who will not admit that the Russian revolution terminated Czarism.
 The Belgrade group of monarchists, which considers itself most representative, was not warned of Grand Duke Cyril's decision and would not in any case have supported him either as the guardian of the Russian throne or as a candidate to it, according to the Berlin correspondent of the Times. The Belgrade monarchists' hopes are centered around Grand Duke Nicholas Nicolaievich, and they have been endeavoring for a considerable time to persuade him to place himself at the head of their movement.
 This group asserts that the chief instigator of Grand Duke Cyril's unexpected declaration is a Colonel Balasheff, at one time a secret agent, and a paid guard of the Russian Minister Protopoff. The monarchists on the whole regard Colonel Balasheff with great disfavor as he only recently left Soviet Russia where he was in the service of the Bolsheviks. On coming out of the country he became Cy-ril's closest advisor. Cyril's supporters maintained that his energy, military experience, and finally the fact that he is now the head of the family, are all factors which render him the most suitable candidate for the throne.

 Supporters of Grand Duke Nicholas retort that Cyril is unpopular, not only among the masses of Russia, but also in the Romanoff family itself, while Grand Duke Nicholas' popularity is so great that this factor alone decides the choice.
 Many monarchists seriously deplore
 the whole controversy and condemn the supporters of the unpopular Cyril as well as the supporters of Nicholas. These, they say, are endeavoring to bring into the contest the figure of an old soldier who has repeatedly declared that he would devote the remainder of his strength to the service of the Russian people only if he were called upon to do so by their general vote, but that he was loath to place himself at the head of any movement outside Russia.

INDIANS PLAN
TRAINING TRIP

CLEVELAND, Oct. 25.—Plans of the Cleveland Indians for their spring training trip call for one of the biggest training schedules ever laid out for a Cleveland team, according to the announcement today by E. S. Burnard, president of the American League team.
 Spring games have been or will be scheduled with no less than five of the eight national league teams in Florida. Agreement has already been reached for four games with the Cincinnati Reds, two at Lakeland, Fla., where the Indians will train and two at Orlando, Fla., where the Reds will train. The dates will be set later.
 Spring games with the St. Louis Cardinals, Boston Braves and the Philadelphia team have been requested and these teams will be given dates for games with the Indians, Burnard said.
 The Brooklyn Dodgers will train in some part of Florida said and will no doubt get dates on the Indians spring schedule.

GRADING SCHOOLS IN COUNTY

U. M. PERRY
 It has been quite noticeable since the co-ops have been delivering tobacco to their local associations that in many instances they have been working against their own interests. This trouble has arisen through attempts to force tobacco into grades higher than they should be. For instance farmer A has some fine wrapper tobacco, say $24. He has also some leaf not quite as good. The advance on the latter should be say $18. Thinking he can get the larger price by mixing the lots finds to his sorrow the graders are forced to throw it all into the lower grade, even though the better grade may comprise as much as 60 per cent. of the lot. Plans have been made to hold in the county some grading schools. These are not to teach farmers to be expert graders such are employed by the association, for that takes many years of special training, but the idea is to teach what not to do. In other words, to point out mistakes made by farmers in sorting their tobacco. In fact, these schools should be of interest to those selling under the auction system, for the companies pay according to the poorer grades in a pile rather than the better grades. Mr. Holland will be at Chatham Saturday, October 28th, at 11 o'clock with half a dozen graders for the first of these schools. The school will run to 2:30 at which time Mr. Sands will speak. All farmers, co-ops and others are cordially invited to attend the school Saturday and learn some new ideas about grading.

WARN TROOPS AGAINST
WHOLESALE EXECUTION
 CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 25.—All the Greek soldiers who were formerly Turkish subjects have been isolated by the Turkish Nationalists for trial by special military tribunals. The prisoners are charged with high treason, according to advice received today by American relief agencies here.
 It is the fear in well-informed circles that these Greeks will be put to death in groups of a hundred or more.
 The allied high commissioners, apprehending something of the sort, have dispatched an appeal to the Ankara government, asking that "generosity be shown these prisoners" and declaring that "a generous amnesty would not be regarded as a sign of weakness."
 The allied note, which is signed by France, England and Italy, follows:
 "Acting on instructions from their governments, the allied high commissioners bring to the notice of the Ankara government that they have learned that Greek soldiers who are Ottoman subjects have been concentrated in special barracks with the object of trying them for high treason and sentencing them to death."
 "While the high commissioners do not desire to interfere in Turkish internal affairs, nevertheless, from a purely humanitarian viewpoint, they ask that generosity be shown these prisoners, and they draw to your attention that such single or mass executions would cause horror in the whole civilized world. Generous amnesty would not be regarded as a sign of weakness, but, on the contrary, as proof of the inauguration of a new policy tending to wipe out the unhappy past and bring a new era of peace."

SOUTHERN FARMER
ON HIS FEET AGAIN
 (BY I. V. SHANNON)
 NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—The Southern Farmer is on his feet again as a result of the money raised from that part of his cotton crop which has been marketed. It is estimated by the best authorities that more than half the cotton crop already has been marketed and considerably over a half-billion dollars distributed among producers.
 The farmer's debts have nearly all been paid out of the proceeds of early sales and there is a disposition among those who have not sold all their crop to hold for higher prices.
 The spread of this movement is regarded as largely responsible for the upheaval in the cotton market in the last two weeks. The general improvement in every line of business in the South is due to the improvement in the condition of the farmers.

NEW ORLEANS, October 25.—The sweeping reductions in railroad rates on crude petroleum from oil producing points in Louisiana to refineries recently ordered by the state public service commission, has placed rail-shippers on a parity with pipe line shippers of oil through the Gulf state. The maximum railroad rate from North Louisiana to New Orleans refineries will be 15 1-2 cents a hundred pounds. Former rates ranged from 24 cents to 35 cents.

STEEL
PITTSBURGH, October 25.—Operating schedules at the Duquesne and Homestead plants of the Carnegie Steel Company have been increased this week, owing to the receipt of large railroad orders. There is a full in scrap ing steady.

CLEVELAND, October 25.—Two additional stacks have been lighted by Cleveland firms in the last week, one by the Bourne Fuller Company and one by the American Steel and Wire Company.

FARRELL, Pa., October 25.—Carnegie Steel plants here are operating at capacity, except the bar mill, which was put out of commission when a fly-wheel broke. The American Sheet and Tinplate Company is operating its tin mills in full. Sheet mills, closed by a shortage of steel, will resume this week.

America Forever And Forever Dry, Is Belief of Paish

Great Britain Will Follow, Economist Thinks, When
Our Experiment Is Successful.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—America always will have prohibition, and Great Britain also will be dry in a few years when the success of this country's experiment is assured, said Sir George Paish, British economist and editor of the Star, in an interview yesterday in the Hotel Vanderbilt. Sir George, who arrived a few days ago to speak tonight at the banking session of the American Manufacturers' Export Association, will sail Saturday to contest the return of liquor law to Parliament from the Central Division of Glasgow.

His belief in prohibition is based on economic grounds. The working people of the world, he says, will demand and receive a greater share of the

EVEN KENTUCKY MAY IGNORE DUEL

The sword has usually been favored by duellists and modern courts are another

Armor and steeds were used in early duelling. Prize fighting is one offshoot of duelling.

By NEA Service.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 25.—State officials in Kentucky need not swear they never participated in duels, if a proposed measure becomes a law at the next legislature. This would eliminate reference to duelling from the oath of office administered.

Those favoring the change want to show the world that "the dark and bloody ground" is as modern and law-abiding as the rest of these United States.

Duels outshone strap speeches in early day politics. But since 1849, they have passed out of fashion in connection with vote getting.

Henry C. Pope and John T. Gray, Louisville men, fought the last duel of consequence that year. Shotguns, loaded with single balls, were fired at 20 paces. Pope was mortally wounded.

Lawyers Fought Most.

Later that year, an attorney named Smith and a school teacher named Singer satisfied "honor" by wounding each other with pistols at 11 paces. The crowd cheered lustily.

Public opinion then turned against duelling, and it was discarded in Kentucky.

Lawyers fought more duels than any other class of people, with legislators a close second.

One of the most famous Kentucky duels was that between William J. Graves and Jonathan Cilley, both members of Congress, fought in 1838. There was no quarrel between them, but Graves challenged Cilley because the latter refused to accept a message from Graves, carried by a newspaper editor Cilley had quarreled with.

Cilley died from a rifle bullet fired by Graves. He died, expressing highest regard for the man who shot him.

Henry Clay fought two duels, one with Humphrey Marshall, in 1808, in which both were slightly wounded, and one with John Randolph, in 1826. The men were friends, and Randolph fired to miss. This affected Clay, and a reconciliation followed.

The Alexander Hamilton-Aaron Burr duel, fought in 1804, which Hamilton was shot after he had fired into the air, really turned America against this practice. For half a century more, though, society tolerated this mode of settling "affairs of honor," despite its banning by law.

A man challenged either had to accept or be ostracized.

But to duelling, say authorities, civilization is indebted for its modern instrument of justice, the court of law. And prize fighting must point to the duello as its parent.

All quarrels of the nobility were settled by battle in the days when robber barons were going out and kings were coming into fashion in Europe. The courts were arranged for the benefit of spectators, and kings and their courts were judges. Knights fought on horseback, using lances. Lesser persons battled it out with knives or poleaxes.
